

Flight Operations Specialists will be trained at IGU

Flight Operations Management Program of Istanbul Gelisim University Vocational School was authorized by the General Directorate of Civil Aviation (SHGM) for the “Flight Operations Specialist Training”. In this way, the graduates of the related department will be entitled to take the SHGM exams by getting a certificate from the university without going to any flight training course.

Istanbul Gelisim University which holds the title of being the university with the most accredited programs in Turkey due to its 53 accredited programs from Europe, was awarded the certificate authority for "Flight Operations Specialist (Dispatcher) Training". IGU became the second institution of higher education in Turkey have this certificate authority. In this way, graduates will have the right to take exams at the General Directorate of Civil Aviation (SHGM) without going to any expensive dispatcher course for 3 months.

WHO IS THE FLIGHT OPERATIONS SPECIALIST (DISPATCHER)?

Flight Operations Specialist; makes all the necessary flight plans for the realization of the flights firstly and follows the flight throughout the flight. He is the person who is licensed by the Directorate General of Civil Aviation and at any stage of the flight, in order to ensure the safe and effective flight of the pilot in the light of the request of the responsible pilot or the information received, informs the flight team, follows the flight to transfer the information about the flight to the required units, ensures that the information about the emergency situation (sabotage, accident, hijacking, etc.) is transmitted to the required units. Flight Operations Specialists ensure that aircraft are prepared to take off as quickly and safely as possible. They assist in bringing together all of the different operations and services associated with the preparation of any aircraft in flight at the right time and in the right order, allowing the aircraft to take off at the allocated time.

Flight Operations Specialists; by following the activities covering cleaning, refueling, and baggage and cargo loading operations, they are closely engaged and acted with cabin crew and aircraft technicians to ensure they are ready to take off. They use a wide range of technologies from operational planning tools to electronic systems to maintain contact with all different service providers. Flights are required at all hours of the day and require a shift working system. Flight operations experts find jobs in the passenger/cargo companies' representation/supervision positions.

PRACTICE TRAININGS

The students in the Flight Operations Management program will complete their training by 4 hours flight with Airbus A320-200 or Boeing B737-800 Aircraft Simulators at IFTC Company, which is contracted by Istanbul Gelisim University. “Kaaba Dreams” exhibition is open

Head of Restoration and Conservation Department of Istanbul Gelisim University Prof. Dr. Erol Kılıç opened his painting exhibition called 'Kaaba Dreams'. Kılıç said: "Depictions of the Kaaba are designed on each surface from prayer rugs to tiles".

25 works by the Head of Restoration and Conservation Department of Istanbul Gelisim University Prof. Dr. Erol Kılıç was presented to art lovers in the exhibition at Zeytinburnu Culture and Art Center.

The Mayor of Zeytinburnu Murat Aydın, Chairman of the Board of Trustees Abdulkadir Gayretli of Istanbul Gelisim University (IGU) and many guests attended the opening ceremony of the exhibition.

Forcing all patterns of tradition, Kılıç combines mystical images with calligraphic forms to create a new understanding, and uses the symbolic meanings of search for understanding of infinity and existing with eternity. The cultural symbolic traces of the Seljuks and the Ottomans come to life again in the works produced by the artist in recent years. In the 'Kaaba Dreams' exhibition of the artist Erol Kılıç, the descriptions of the Kaaba, which are not formed according to the optical view, are depicted according to traditional miniature rules or show topographical features.

“JOURNEY OF THE KAABA DREAMS”

Explaining how the idea of exhibition emerged Prof. Dr. Kılıç expressed: "Depictions of the Kaaba designed on each surface from prayer rugs to tiles. The figures of the Kaaba were definitely included in the manuscripts, the power of pilgrimage, and the pilgrimage certificates given by the sheikhs to the dervishes who will take the duty. In the topographical pictures where the journey to the Kaaba is described, we also see the depictions of the Kaaba. While depicting the Kaaba, we can see that the Masjid al-Haram and Masjid al-Nabawi are also depicted. In almost every home, a depiction of the Kaaba existed either hanging on the wall or on paper with hard copies or under-glass pictures. Kaaba is not only depicted in the pictures; there are countless stories about the Kaaba and the journey to the Kaaba in the poems and stories. We grew up with these narratives in our childhood and it took part in our memories. Kaaba is the dream of all of us and it is our qiblah. The holy projections of the Kaaba take place with their reflections on our hearts rather than the way they are portrayed. In my pictures depicting Kaaba, I tried to create a unique picture language by forcing the limits of paint plasticity. While trying to keep continuity between the past and today due to the responsibility of being a contemporary artist, it is a journey of Kaaba dreams with paint plasticity”.

The paintings in the exhibition are mainly depictions of the Kaaba due to the concept. The artist, who makes references to Sufism, brings together the mystical aesthetic language that Seljuk and Ottoman art has created over the centuries, and enables to revive with the contemporary artist’s creative features. In the exhibition, the artist presents a selection of topics on Kaaba and Sufism in his paintings.

IGU students met with Prof. Dr. Ismail Hakkı Aydın

Prof. Dr. Ismail Hakkı Aydın was hosted in the activity entitled "Interview on the Mysterious Coasts of the Brain" organized by Istanbul Gelisim University. Having worked in many fields, Aydın emphasized the importance of brain, intelligence and work for the world and the future.

At the event where the questions such as why the brain does not get tired why we should run the brain, and how to operate it, was answered, Prof. Dr. Ismail Hakkı Aydın, who has many works in the fields of art, music and philosophy focused on the scientific properties also clarified the phrase profoundly known among the people, "the brain is tired when much information is loaded", said:

"The brain opens and evolves as information loads. The brain does not recognize the boundary and area when making this storage. A person can learn and speak multiple languages at the same time, or a person can succeed in more than one and many separate areas. For example; A person can be the best lawyer in the world, the best engineer and best artist at the same time. The brain also has room for all this information because the person does not have to limit himself."

At the end of the interactive activity with students, a plaque of appreciation was presented on behalf of the university to Prof. Dr. Ismail Hakkı Aydın by the Director of the School of Health Sciences A. Yüksel Barut.
