July 28

2020

Stating that civil engineering and architecture are the oldest professions that arise with the need for permanent housing, Educator Abdulkadir Gayretli spoke: "The fields of study of these professions that will survive as long as humanity exists are broader."

"THEY CAN SET UP THEIR OWN OFFICE"

Reminding that civil engineering and architecture affect hundreds of professions in the industry, Istanbul Gelisim University Chairman of the Board of Trustees Abdulkadir Gayretli said: "They are among the professions that have the highest impact on the national economy by affecting more than 200 sectors. Almost all sectors need an infrastructure, and the project design, construction and maintenance of these infrastructures are in the core area of these professions. Professionals can set up their own office as well as they can work in a project office. They can work in the public sector or as a field engineer, and can provide consultancy. We, as a university, cover the furniture expenses of all students who want to set up their own offices regardless of the departments, and encourage them to start their own businesses."

The right choice suggestions for the university*July 29 2020

While the results of the Higher Education Institutions Exam (2020-YKS) were announced yesterday, universities started to make their promotion days both face to face and online. Speaking in the online broadcast of the university titled "The Right Decision in the Preference Process" within the scope of the promotional days held in the digital environment, Guidance Expert Elif Alu Gulşen and Pelin Karahancı made suggestions to the prospective students.

"TYT IS BEYOND BEING A KNOWLEDGE TEST"

Evaluating the Higher Education Institutions Exam (YKS) held on July 27 – 28, Guidance Expert Pelin Karahancı spoke: "The most important criterion of this process was that students studying for YKS, which was constantly changing due to the pandemic, had great problems. One of the most important things to say about the exam process is that there were a lot of questions with depth of meaning in all areas. This means that TYT is beyond being a knowledge test anymore. Because the importance of how students struggle with long paragraphs and deep questions in a certain period has increased. Students can no longer differentiate which question is Turkish language and which is Math because the rate of measurement of verbal logic ability has increased. In other words, it is important to read, comprehend and to be able to relate with real life, to analyze correctly, so students who will prepare for 2021 YKS can spend their holidays by reading a lot."
