The reason for the plane crash cannot be determined until the black box records are examined

JANUARY 08, 2020

Stating that the expression 'it fell due to technical failure' in a very short time after the plane crash is inconsistent, Professional Aircraft Aerospace Engineer Haluk Kul said: "It is necessary to wait for making a statement until the black box records are examined. Of course there may be a chain of translation errors here. It would be correct to directly translate the statements of the Iranian authorities and then evaluate them."

Indicating that the crashed plane was three years old, Professional Aircraft Aerospace Engineer Haluk Kul from Istanbul Gelisim University said: "It can be expected that there is no unsafe situation if there is no obvious maintenance error or pilotage problem. The possibility of a guided missile thrown as the cause of the aircraft falling should also be evaluated."

Finance expert commented that gold prices will not decline

Emphasizing that globally increasing geopolitical risks cause the increase in not only oil prices but also commodity prices, which are considered as safe investment instruments such as gold, Financial Markets Specialist Hakan Yıldırım said: "Gold prices in ounces may settle into a new band. Global tension and increased geopolitical risks may signal the impossibility of a decline in prices."

In recent days, precious metals such as gold and oil are among the investment instruments that investors closely follow. Finance experts Express that taking into consideration weekly crude oil stocks announced by American Petroleum Institute, the decline of 5,945 million barrels is seen.
