

PRIMARY RESOURCES

Global Plants

Global Plants is a community-contributed database and an essential resource for research and teaching in botany, ecology, and conservation studies.

Content includes: More than two million objects, including high-resolution type specimens as well as reference works and primary sources such as correspondences, diaries, illustrations, and photographs.

URL: <https://plants.jstor.org/>

19th Century British Pamphlets

This collection chronicles the political and socioeconomic issues behind Britain's 19th-century debates and controversies, with nine subcollections that span topics such as universal suffrage, colonial affairs, and educational reform.

Content includes: More than 25,000 pamphlets, including advertisements, annotations, cartoons, diagrams and maps, engravings, letters, petitions, and portraits.

URL: www.jstor.org

Struggles for Freedom: Southern Africa

This collection documents the liberation movements in six southern African countries, addressing topics such as colonial rule, dispersion of exiles, and international intervention. Content includes: More than 20,000 objects, including oral histories, speeches, nationalist publications, fully digitized books, and pamphlets.

URL: www.jstor.org

World Heritage Sites: Africa

This collection brings together visual, contextual, and spatial documentation of African heritage sites and rock art sites.

Content includes: More than 50,000 objects, including photographs, 3D models, GIS data sets, site plans, aerial and satellite photography, excavation reports, travelogues, and other scholarly material.

URL: www.jstor.org