STUDENTS OF DIFFERENT NATIONALITIES MEET AT THIS EVENT

Many students from different nationalities come together at the Erasmus Days event. The students participating in the workshop activities both provide cultural interaction and emphasize that it is possible to work and live together regardless of language or religion. Students have the chance to participate in various activities from yoga to Italian cuisine, from Turkish music to world music.

"The event breaks ground"

Since 2018, Erasmus Days have been organized to increase the recognition of the Erasmus+ program and the visibility of the projects, and to encourage potential beneficiaries.

Many students from different nationalities came together at the events at Istanbul Gelisim University, which signed the first Erasmus Days this year.

“Youth emphasis is put forward”

Speaking about the Erasmus Days event, IGU Erasmus Coordinator Alisa Usubova says, “With the emphasis of Green Erasmus within the framework of the European Green Consensus, students carry out afforestation activities in the first two days of activities. In other activities, the emphasis is placed on youth, and it is aimed both to carry out activities belonging to different cultures together and to ensure the dissemination of the Erasmus program. Various activities are offered to the students, from yoga to Italian cuisine, from Turkish music to world music.”

“TRAININGS WILL CONTINUE”

The trainings, starting with the senior students of Mehmet Baydar Anatolian High School and given by Ferhat Şahin, will continue with students from different high schools throughout the exam marathon. The training program can be accessed on the university's website.

'EROL YILDIR'S HORSES' EXHIBITION OPENS

Prof. Dr. Erol Yıldır's exhibition 'Erol Yıldır's Horses' has been opened. The works exhibited at Gelisim Art Gallery will be open to art lovers until October 30.

From Istanbul Gelisim University, Painter Prof. Dr. Erol Yıldır's solo exhibition titled "'Erol Yıldır's Horses'" has been opened at Gelisim Art Gallery.

Making the opening speech of the exhibition and curating the exhibition, Prof. Dr. İsmet Çavuşoğlu states that Painter Erol Yıldır exhibits works suitable for today's art and continues as follows:

"The painter Erol Yıldır's choice of large sizes as a format in all his works, glorifying horses is proof that his love for them is unlimited. Yıldır, while making horse drawings in a scientific framework and systematically, comes before us with determined works as an artist who has examined and evaluated all the horse paintings seen in the history of art. Although the places where the horses are found in Yıldır's paintings are naturally considered as outdoor abstractions, in the end, they are the places where the horses feel free and the best. Although the human figure is not included along with the horses in his paintings, the artist has chosen a narrative that he believes will be monumental, powerful and more effective by keeping the relations with the human in the background."

The exhibition of Prof. Dr. Erol Yıldır, an important artist and educator who uses the image of a horse in Turkish painting and is completely devoted to horses, will be open to visitors until October 30.
