THIS DISEASE IS ALSO SEEN IN DESK JOB WORKERS: ACID REFLUX

JANUARY 06

2023

Acid reflux, which is caused by factors such as wrong diet, smoking and alcohol use, is a burning sensation that happens when some of the acid content of the stomach flows up into the esophagus as a result of bending over or lying down after eating. If care is not taken, it can cause problems such as burning in the anterior region of the rib cage, difficulty in swallowing and coughing. Specialist Dietitian Hasan Fatih Akgoz from Istanbul Gelisim University underlined that this disease can be seen in individuals with low physical activity.
